IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ALL CUSTOMERS

Extreme Terminal Congestion in Los Angeles

Please be advised there is extreme terminal congestion in the ports of Los Angeles and Long Beach.

The main reasons are due to peak season, the launch of the G6 consortium and complications of ongoing construction at the terminal.

As a consequence vessels have been delayed sailing by approx. 3 – 4 days, the terminal operation hours have been revised which is limiting window availability to deliver cargo and there is an acute shortage of trucks and chassis.

Your customer service representative will keep you updated if any of your shipments will be directly affected / delayed by this congestion.

Should you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact your account representative.

Yours faithfully,
